

BrightArc Executive Employment - Internal Email Chain

Email Chain

From: Casey Rowan, Project Lead. Date: 2026-11-05. Subject: Notice period. "I think the contract still says 45 days, but I have not checked the amendments."

From: Morgan Vale, Contracts. Date: 2026-11-06. "Please do not rely on that recollection. Amendment 1 changed the current notice period to 30 days. Amendment 2 does not take effect until 2027-01-01."

From: Casey Rowan. "Understood. My earlier message was from memory, not a contract interpretation."

General Provision GP-01

For purposes of this synthetic agreement, the parties will maintain complete written records concerning performance, notices, approvals, invoices, and changes. No statement in General Provision GP-01 modifies a specific commercial term stated elsewhere unless an amendment expressly identifies the affected section. Headings are for convenience only. Administrative renumbering, pagination, typography, and corrected spelling do not by themselves alter substantive obligations.

General Provision GP-02

For purposes of this synthetic agreement, the parties will maintain complete written records concerning performance, notices, approvals, invoices, and changes. No statement in General Provision GP-02 modifies a specific commercial term stated elsewhere unless an amendment expressly identifies the affected section. Headings are for convenience only. Administrative renumbering, pagination, typography, and corrected spelling do not by themselves alter substantive obligations.

General Provision GP-03

For purposes of this synthetic agreement, the parties will maintain complete written records concerning performance, notices, approvals, invoices, and changes. No statement in General Provision GP-03 modifies a specific commercial term stated elsewhere unless an amendment expressly identifies the affected section. Headings are for convenience only. Administrative renumbering, pagination, typography, and corrected spelling do not by themselves alter substantive obligations.

General Provision GP-04

For purposes of this synthetic agreement, the parties will maintain complete written records concerning performance, notices, approvals, invoices, and changes. No statement in General Provision GP-04 modifies a specific commercial term stated elsewhere unless an amendment expressly identifies the affected section. Headings are for convenience only. Administrative renumbering, pagination, typography, and corrected spelling do not by themselves alter substantive obligations.

General Provision GP-05

For purposes of this synthetic agreement, the parties will maintain complete written records concerning performance, notices, approvals, invoices, and changes. No statement in General Provision GP-05 modifies a specific commercial term stated elsewhere unless an amendment expressly identifies the affected section. Headings are for convenience only. Administrative renumbering, pagination, typography, and corrected spelling do not by themselves alter substantive obligations.

General Provision GP-06

For purposes of this synthetic agreement, the parties will maintain complete written records concerning performance, notices, approvals, invoices, and changes. No statement in General Provision GP-06 modifies a specific commercial term stated elsewhere unless an amendment expressly identifies the affected section. Headings are for convenience only.

Administrative renumbering, pagination, typography, and corrected spelling do not by themselves alter substantive obligations.

General Provision GP-07

For purposes of this synthetic agreement, the parties will maintain complete written records concerning performance, notices, approvals, invoices, and changes. No statement in General Provision GP-07 modifies a specific commercial term stated elsewhere unless an amendment expressly identifies the affected section. Headings are for convenience only. Administrative renumbering, pagination, typography, and corrected spelling do not by themselves alter substantive obligations.

General Provision GP-08

For purposes of this synthetic agreement, the parties will maintain complete written records concerning performance, notices, approvals, invoices, and changes. No statement in General Provision GP-08 modifies a specific commercial term stated elsewhere unless an amendment expressly identifies the affected section. Headings are for convenience only. Administrative renumbering, pagination, typography, and corrected spelling do not by themselves alter substantive obligations.

General Provision GP-09

For purposes of this synthetic agreement, the parties will maintain complete written records concerning performance, notices, approvals, invoices, and changes. No statement in General Provision GP-09 modifies a specific commercial term stated elsewhere unless an amendment expressly identifies the affected section. Headings are for convenience only. Administrative renumbering, pagination, typography, and corrected spelling do not by themselves alter substantive obligations.